Course Description

The Fundamentals of Communication course provides an in-depth understanding of the essential principles and practices of communication. It covers the theoretical frameworks and practical skills necessary for effective interpersonal, group, and public communication. Students will explore topics such as verbal and non-verbal communication, active listening, public speaking, and intercultural communication. The course aims to enhance students' ability to convey ideas clearly and confidently, fostering better personal and professional relationships. Through lectures, discussions, and practical exercises, students will develop a solid foundation in communication that is applicable across various contexts and disciplines.

Course Pre-requisite

1. While an introductory course will cover the fundamentals, having some familiarity with basic communication concepts can be beneficial.
2. Communication studies involve analyzing various forms of communication critically. Therefore, having strong critical thinking skills is essential.

Course Description

This course explores the aesthetics of photography, examining its principles, theories, and practices. Through a blend of theoretical knowledge and practical application, students will develop an understanding of how aesthetic principles influence photographic work and its reception. The course is divided into four modules to progressively build knowledge and skills from basic understanding to higher-order critical thinking and creation.

Course Prerequisite:

- Student should have a unique creative vision, style and passion for photography
- Student should have a basic idea about the composition, lighting etc.
- Student must have technical know-how and an artistic vision

Course Outcomes (CO)

CO	Expected Outcome	Learning Domains	Knowledge Category#	Evaluation Tools used
CO1	Assess- Students will be able to define and explain key aesthetic principles and their historical evolution, identifying major contributors to aesthetic theory in visual arts, particularly photography.	U	C	Instructor-created exams/Quiz

CO2	Analyse- Students will develop skills to critically analyse photographs across various genres and styles. They will apply formal, contextual, and	An	C	Seminar Presentation/ Home Assignments

CO3	Recognise- Students will be equipped to evaluate and critique the aesthetic quality of photographic works using established criteria. They will explore the balance between subjective and objective judgments and consider ethical implications in their critiques. They will also learn to appreciate the role of audience reception and diverse interpretations of photographic works.	E	C	Seminar Presentation/ Group Tutorial Work
CO4	Critique- Students will apply their understanding of aesthetic principles to create photographs that demonstrate a high level of aesthetic quality. This involves developing concepts, planning shoots, employing advanced composition and lighting techniques, and utilizing post-processing tools to enhance the aesthetic appeal of their work.	A	C	Instructor- created exams / Home Assignments
CO5	Create: Students will be able to curate a cohesive series of photographs for exhibition, demonstrating their ability to plan, execute, and present their work professionally.	P	P	Presentation of the plans

Course Description

The Print and Online Design course offers students an in-depth exploration of design principles and practices as applied to both traditional print media and contemporary online platforms. Through a combination of theoretical study and practical exercises, students will learn to assess, analyze, and critique various design elements such as typography, layout, colour, and imagery in the context of print and digital communication. Emphasis will be placed on developing creative skills and technical proficiency using industry-standard software to produce effective and visually engaging designs suitable for diverse audiences and purposes. Additionally, students will gain hands-on experience in applying design concepts across different media formats, with a focus on user experience and accessibility considerations in the digital realm.

Course Prerequisite

1. Competence in using digital tools and resources.
2. An introductory understanding of design principles and elements.

	1	Offer students a variety of articles or stories from news sources. Have them find and fix grammar, punctuation, spelling, and style errors. Prompt them to use editing principles taught in class, set a time limit, and give feedback for improvement.
	2	Group students for a multimedia project like a news segment, podcast, or social media video. They will script, shoot, edit, and produce the content using editing software. Stress the significance of storytelling, visuals, and sound quality. Students present their projects to the class for feedback and improvement.
	3	Students work in groups to create a digital media campaign on a given topic. They develop written content for print and multimedia content for electronic platforms, applying editing skills learned in class. The campaign should be cohesive and engaging, incorporating editing techniques for accuracy and clarity. Groups present their campaigns, showcasing editing choices and impact. Peer feedback and discussion provide insights into creative approach and editing strategies.

Course Description

The Video Editing course provides comprehensive training in the art and techniques of video editing, covering fundamental skills such as assembling shots, adding transitions, basic colour correction, and audio editing basics. Students will also learn advanced topics including visual effects, motion graphics, and narrative storytelling through hands-on projects like creating short films, music videos, and documentary-style interviews. By the end of the course, students will have the expertise to produce professional-quality videos with creative editing techniques and a strong emphasis on storytelling and visual communication.

Course Prerequisite

1. Basic computer skills
2. Understanding of film and television production concepts.
3. Knowledge of basic video production techniques, such as camera operation.
4. Creative thinking and storytelling skills.
5. Ability to work collaboratively in a team environment.
6. Strong attention to detail and a passion for visual storytelling.

Course Description

This course offers a dynamic exploration of animation and motion graphics, focusing on the principles, software tools, and creative processes essential for crafting compelling visual stories. Students will learn animation techniques, motion graphics design, and the use of industry-standard software such as Adobe After Effects. The course emphasizes hands-on projects to develop students' skills in creating captivating animations, special effects, and dynamic visual content for various digital media platforms

Course Prerequisite

1. Digital Design Basics: Proficiency in using design software such as Adobe Photoshop and Illustrator for creating and manipulating visual elements.
2. Understanding of Animation Principles: Knowledge of key animation principles such as timing, spacing, squash and stretch, anticipation, and follow-through.
3. Multimedia Software Skills: Familiarity with multimedia software used in motion graphics or similar animation and compositing tools.
4. Storytelling and Narrative Skills: Understanding of narrative structure and storytelling techniques to effectively convey messages and emotions through animation.
5. Creative Portfolio: A portfolio showcasing previous animation or design work demonstrating creativity, technical skills, and storytelling ability.

Course Description

This course offers an in-depth exploration of sound design, focusing on the principles and techniques used in creating and manipulating audio for various media. Students will learn the art and science of sound design, including recording, editing, and mixing sound effects, dialogue, and music. Through practical projects and theoretical studies, they will gain hands-on experience with industry-standard software and equipment. The course also covers the historical and theoretical context of sound design, enabling students to understand its role in enhancing narrative and emotional impact. By the end of the course, students will be able to produce professional-quality audio content and have a comprehensive understanding of the sound design process, preparing them for careers in film, television, video games, and live performance.

Course Prerequisite

1. Basic Audio Knowledge: Understanding of fundamental audio concepts, such as sound waves, frequency, and amplitude.
2. Music or Sound Production Basics: Experience or coursework in creating, recording, and editing audio content.
3. Software Proficiency: Proficiency in using audio editing and production software such as Pro-Tools, Logic Pro, or Audacity.
4. Critical Listening Skills: Ability to analyze and evaluate audio content critically, considering its quality and impact.
5. Technical Aptitude: Basic understanding of audio equipment and its usage, including microphones, mixers, and recording devices.

Course Description

Film/ Cinema both represent and integrate with society. It is part of the culture, and it enriches it. It affects society, and vice versa. As a result, media students need to be aware of what's going on in the film industry. The goal of this course is to provide students with the tools necessary to analyze a film's cultural significance while having a thorough understanding of the key movements.

Film studies offer a wide range of frameworks to interpret cinema. The students are provided with the necessary devices for understanding how meaning is created, and how viewers understand the meaning and engage with that meaning.

Course Prerequisite

1. An understanding that cinema is a form of mass communication

Course Content

Content for Classroom Transaction:

Module	Unit	Description	Hours (60)	Marks (70)
I	Module I Research Process		10	15
	1	Historical development of media and communication research
	2	Scientific methods and research procedures: research question and hypothesis; objectives and methodology; review of literature; sampling; data collection and data analysis; research proposal writing; publishing research papers; style for citing references and bibliography
	3	Concepts and constructs; independent, dependent, discrete and continuous variables; reliability and validity
II	Module II: Research Approaches Part A		10	20
	4	Qualitative Research Methods: field observation, focus groups, intensive interviews, case studies and ethnography
	5	Content Analysis: scope, steps, tools and limitations
	6	Survey Research: descriptive and analytical surveys, questionnaire design, pretesting and data collection
III	Module III: Research Approaches Part B		10	20
	7	Longitudinal Research: trend studies, cohort analysis and panel studies
	8	Experimental Research: scope, steps, experimental designs, factorial designs, field and online experiments
	9	Research applications in the print and broadcast media, and in advertising, public relations and film domains
IV	Module IV: Hypothesis and Statistical Tests		15	15
	10	Statistical tools for media metrics: Descriptive statistics and inferential statistics
	11	Measures of central tendency; mean, media and mode; measures of dispersion: mean deviation, variance and standard deviation

	12	Measures of asymmetry: NPC, skewness & kurtosis Measures of Relationship: correlation and regression Inferential statistics: parametric and non-parametric Parametric: f-test, t-test, ANOVA etc. Nonparametric: chi-square, u test etc.
V	Module V: Teacher Specific Module (Practicum)		15
		Directions
	1	Design a survey to collect data on a topic of your choice, specifying the purpose, research hypothesis and approach. Develop 15 questions, and conduct a pilot study to test the questionnaire and submit the report.
	2	Conduct a brief content analysis of treatment of women in a specific regular programme broadcast on an entertainment television channel
	3	Examine recent journals in mass media research, and identify three articles where case study method was used. Specify the sources of data used in the study, how the data were analysed, and how the study was reported and submit it as a report.

PROJECT IN HONOURS PROGRAMME

- In BJMC Honours programme, the student has the option to do a Project of 12-credits instead of three Core Courses in Major in semester 8.
- The Project can be done in the same institution or in any other Higher Education Institution (HEI)/ Research Centre.
- A faculty member of the institution where the student is doing the Project should be the supervisor of the Project.
- In BJMC Honours Programme, the project can be done in any domains of print, broadcast or new media, or in any of advertising, public relations and film domains, planned, executed and documented systematically.

PROJECT IN HONOURS WITH RESEARCH PROGRAMME

- Students who secure 75% marks and above (equivalently, CGPA 7.5 and above) cumulatively in the first six semesters are eligible to get selected to Honours with Research stream in the fourth year.
- A relaxation of 5% in marks (equivalently, a relaxation of 0.5 grade in CGPA) is allowed for those belonging to SC/ ST/ OBC (non-creamy layer)/ Differently Abled/ Economically Weaker Section (EWS)/ other categories of candidates as per the decision of the UGC from time to time.
- In Honours with Research programme, the student has to do a mandatory Research Project of 12-credits instead of three Core Courses in Major in semester 8.

- A faculty member with a Ph.D. degree can supervise the research project of the students who have enrolled for Honours with Research. One such faculty member can supervise a maximum of five students in Honours with Research programme.

GUIDELINES

1. Project can be in journalism and multimedia or in allied disciplines.
2. Project should be done individually.
3. There should be a minimum 240 hours of engagement from the student in the Project work in Honours programme.
4. There should be minimum 13 hrs./week of engagement (the hours corresponding to the three core courses in Major in semester 8) from the teacher in the guidance of the Project in Honours programme and Honours with Research programme.
5. The project proposal, institution at which the project is being carried out, and the project supervisor should be prior approved by the Department Council of the college where the student has enrolled for the UG Honours programme.
6. During the Project the students should make regular and detailed entries into a personal logbook through the period of investigation. The logbook will be a record of the progress of the Project and the time spent on the work. The Project supervisor should periodically examine and countersign the logbook.
7. All entries should be dated. The logbook and the typed report must be submitted at the end of the Project. A copy of the report should be kept for reference at the department. A soft copy of the report too should be submitted, to be sent to the external examiner in advance.
8. The project report shall have an undertaking from the student and a certificate from the research supervisor for originality of the work, stating that there is no plagiarism, and that the work has not been submitted for the award of any other degree/ diploma in the same institution or any other institution.
9. It is desirable, but not mandatory, to publish the results of the Project in a peer reviewed journal.

STEPS IN RESEARCH PROJECT

The steps to be followed in research projects are:

- Identifying the research problem, getting formal approval, completing procedural requirements and formalities
- Literature review; identification of research gap, discussions, participation in seminars and conference, field visits etc.
- Designing a time-bound action plan for the research work and its approval from the faculty supervisor
- Finalizing the research problem, variables, concepts, title, objectives, population, samples, hypothesis or research questions, theoretical framework, methodology, source of data, data collection methods, data processing and analysis plan, chapterization and time line.
- Presentation of synopsis before the research approval committee of the department; modifications and finalization
- Developing the tool for data collection, pre-test and modifications
- Selection of sample
- Collection of data and information- quantitative, qualitative or mixed method
- Data processing and data analysis, testing hypothesis, interpretation, findings, suggestions
- Preparation of project report with references and all supporting documents like tools, photographs, newspaper cuttings, videos, etc.
- Submission of the draft to the organization supervisor/Department Supervisor
- Finalizing the draft research project report with suggestions/modifications/observations as proposed by the Supervisor
- Printing and hard binding of the research project report; certification should be authenticated by the Research Supervisors and the Head of the Department.
- Submission of the final research project report to the department
- Prepare a research paper based on your study and get it published in a UGC-CARE journal or do a national or international seminar/conference presentation. Submit the certificate copy or journal article copy to the department.
- Public presentation of the Research Project followed by the viva voce conducted by the university

EVALUATION OF PROJECT

- The evaluation of Project will be conducted at the end of the eighth semester through both internal and external modes.
- The Project in Honours programme as well as that in Honours with Research programme will be evaluated for 300 marks. Out of this, 90 marks are from internal evaluation and 210 marks, from external evaluation.
- The internal evaluation of the Project work shall be done through continuous assessment mode by a committee internally constituted by the Department Council of the college where the student has enrolled for the UG Honours programme. 30% of the weightage shall be given through this mode. 70% of the weightage shall be awarded by the external examiner appointed by the University.

The scheme of continuous evaluation and the end-semester viva-voce of the Research Project shall be as given below:
